

Commercial Finance Assistant

To support our growth, we are looking for a savvy individual to come and join the finance team at BOL. You will report into our Finance Manager and support the team to accurately report performance and deliver effective credit and cost control.

The Role in Brief

This individual will be responsible for accounts payable and receivable. On the job training will equip the individual with the skills to post financial transactions in Xero, assist the team with the month end process and to report on the company performance internally.

This individual will champion value-for-money in the business and work cross-functionally to ensure effective cost control. Working closely with the Commercial and Brand teams this individual will be analytical and diligent to ensure budgets are met. The role requires building effective relationships with key suppliers to resolve issues, provide healthy challenge and make timely payments.

This is a fantastic opportunity for someone to gain a strong foundation in finance within the fast-paced world of FMCG. We will support this individual through their professional accounting qualification (ACCA, CIMA etc.). We offer great benefits including private healthcare, a great bonus scheme, stocked fridges and a first-class workspace.

The Person

- Pro-active and inquisitive, keen to take the initiative with a good eye for detail
- Strong organisational skills, ability to handle multiple workloads and prioritise well
- Great at building relationships to partner with internal and external stakeholders
- A hunger for success and a muck-in attitude
- Interest in food & the category

Requirements

- A strong educational background, degree qualified or equivalent
- You will have some experience working in a finance team - a year-in-industry placement is desirable
- Good knowledge of accounting principles and processes
- Natural interest in the role and impact of finance on a company's growth and success
- Excel proficiency
- Bags of positive energy who loves living life to the full

What you will get here

Trying to do the right thing has been part of our DNA since day 1, we have always tried to be a force for good as a business so embrace equal opportunities and cultural diversity in everything that we do.

We take our products as serious as it gets, our responsibility to both people & planet too – we believe the serious stuff can still be delivered in a fun high energy environment though. Leave the corporate mumbo jumbo at the door.

This role will largely be based out of the Veg Pad which is an awesome top floor studio with views across London – chasing down those evening sunsets from the terrace is a particular passion point for a number of the team.

The freebie food & drink benefits from here are pretty endless, think freshly brewed coffee from the smiley barista, plant powered brekkie, lunch and dinner on BOL not to mention the free beer, cider & prosecco taps. Over and above the F&D, there are daily activities from run club to yoga to highly competitive table tennis matches that take place on a regular basis.

The team, culture and relationships built here are second to none. You will get the opportunity to help create even more game changing products across our portfolio, land exciting and disruptive marketing plans but most importantly grow yourself and your team to deliver beyond the “usual” expectations.

How to apply

Please e-mail your CV and a short cover note on why you're excited by this role and opportunity to Leon.Milns@bolfoods.com